

BILLY FRANK JR. STATUE PROJECT

NISQUALLY INDIAN TRIBE

ARTS WA

WASHINGTON STATE
ARTS COMMISSION

Washington State passed legislation in 2021 to send a statue of activist and humanitarian Billy Frank Jr. to National Statuary Hall in Washington, D.C. The statue is currently slated for installation in 2025.

Project Timeline:

January 2021: Rep. Debra Lekanoff introduces legislation to install a statue of Billy Frank Jr. in National Statuary Hall.

April 14, 2021: Governor Jay Inslee signs House Bill 1372 into law.

March 2022: The Billy Frank Jr. National Statuary Hall Selection Committee holds its first meeting.

February 2023: The Committee announces Haiying Wu's selection.

March 2024: Joint Committee of the Library of Congress approves the design.

The Legislation: Representative Debra Lekanoff (D-40th) introduced House Bill 1372 to replace the statue of Marcus Whitman in National Statuary Hall with Billy Frank Jr., a Nisqually leader and treaty rights activist.

"Billy Frank Jr. dedicated his life advocating for equality, justice, and environmental protections. He fought to protect tribal treaty rights, native cultures and traditions, and the natural resources they are based upon." —House Bill 1372

The Artist: Washington-based artist Haiying Wu was born in China and attended the Sichuan Fine Arts Institute. Wu emigrated to the United States and received his Master of Fine Arts in sculpture from the University of Washington.

He has created well known memorials around the Pacific Northwest, including the Fallen Firefighters Memorial in Seattle's Pioneer Square neighborhood.

ArtsWA facilitated the process to select the artist. The Committee selected Mr. Wu in January 2023.

The Statue: Mr. Wu developed his design in consultation with the Nisqually Tribe, the Frank family, and the Committee. Mr. Wu first presented a preliminary design (right) and then sculpted a small-scale model—also known as a "maquette"—of the statue (left), which will be followed by a full-scale model.

The Billy Frank Jr. Statuary Hall Selection Committee and the Architect of the Capitol at National Statuary Hall will review and approve each design step. After the statue's design is approved, it will be cast in bronze by a Washington-based foundry.
